SPOTLIGHT ON...(QUIETLY) SUPPORTING THE OIL & GAS SECTOR

With over 100 years' experience, Merkland Tank has the knowledge, equipment and skills to provide a full range of tank cleaning, waste management and bespoke industrial services to the Oil & Gas sector - one of the most regulated and environmentally conscious industries in the UK!

Due to the high-security nature of some of the Fuel Depots and Petroleum Storage Depots we support across the mainland and islands, we can't always talk specifics or show you exactly what we're doing on site.

BUT, we can say our multi-skilled teams and specialist tanker fleet carry out a broad range of sector and site-specific solutions; confined space entry, non-man entry, manual cleaning and cutting-edge automated cleaning solutions, with these available on a regular, reactive or ad-hoc basis to suit your exact needs.

Alongside our technical expertise, we are fully committed to safety, sustainability and environmental responsibility, and can capably clean and maintain a diverse range of fuel and oil tanks, up to 6,000m³.

CONNECTING WITH INDUSTRY

For the second year running, we were delighted to exhibit at the annual Tank Storage Association Conference & Exhibition in Coventry earlier this month.

As a proud TSA member, it was a great opportunity to network with those in the Oil & Gas sector, catch up with familiar faces and make some great new connections. Many thanks to the TSA team for putting on another superb event, and we look forward to returning next year!
